

WI AIDS SAFETY — District roads in the Echo Hill area, 35 miles northwest of Edmonton are safer at night because of the Echo Hill Women's Institute. Concerned over the hazards posed by poorly marked machinery travelling the roads, the WI raised $180 for nearly 200 yards of red reflective tape. With the aid of the Echo Hill 4-H Club, the WI had the tape placed on nearly 300 pieces of machinery along a 10-mile portion of a district road. Official commendation recently was given the project by the Alberta Safety Council with an Outstanding Achievement plaque. The picture shows Mrs. William Price and Mrs. Lloyd McMillan, members of the Echo Hill Women's Institute safety committee, receiving the plaque from William Perkins, the council's farm safety director.
