

Addressed to Dr. E.K.Wright, MD, Athabasca

Regarding your letter published in the Journal regarding procuring early Athabasca Landing history, etc.

We are curators of "The Great North West Pioneer Village" located near the Alaska Junction on Highway 16 west. We have 14 historical buildings moved in and restored and the last edition is Egge's Stopping House which was located on the Athabasca Landing Trail about 8 miles east of Clyde. A Mr. L. Patry from Edmonton called me yesterday and was telling me he moved onto the Athabasca Landing Trail near this stopping house in 1902 and the mail used to be driven to this stopping house from Edmonton and was met there by a driver from Athabasca Landing thus making two days to get the mail from Edmonton to Athabasca Landing. Egge's Stopping House was halfway between the two places.

We feel that this building being restored and preserved in our village will be of great interest to many of your oldtimers and we are looking for authentic relics and stories to be preserved inside this building which will be on display for all peoples of northern Alberta to see and enjoy.

The building and a little story of it was on the news on T.V. tonight and hope you saw same. Would be very pleased if you would pass this information to your local newspaper which could bring some stories or relics to the both of our interests or you may know a better method to get results.

Hoping to hear from you soon regarding same,

Earl Danard and Alex Chaba
